

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION POLICY

HKO recognises that its business activities affect the environment in one way or another. They do so directly-through their production and distribution operations and indirectly through the use of energy and materials and/or the sale of products and services. HKO is committed to keeping any adverse effects on the environment from its business activities to a practical minimum and hence :

1. HKO will co-operate with all relevant authorities and fully comply with all relevant regulations.
2. HKO will continue to take steps towards limiting the adverse effects of our operations on the environment.
3. HKO will attempt to minimise, where practical, the use of environmentally sensitive materials, and dispose of any residual amounts in a safe and environmentally acceptable manner.
4. HKO will conform to the standards and procedures established in Linde Group's LiMSS Documents and practices.
5. HKO will seek to conserve through efficiencies, scarce and non-renewable resources, such as energy, in all its business activities.
6. HKO will consider the environmental impact in any new business investment proposal.

HKO also recognises that many of our products and technologies can be used by customers to ameliorate their own environmental problems. HKO, therefore, seeks to maximise its contribution to industry and society, and hence :

1. HKO will keep abreast of the research and development carried out by its parent companies and others in this field.
2. HKO will develop the use of environment-friendly products, processes and services in areas we have expertise.
3. HKO will increase its marketing and customer communication on the environment-friendly use of its products and services.
